REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

2011-2012 was a banner year at Whale Branch Middle School. Years of hard work and focus on teaching and learning paid off as our school became the recipient of two national awards: the prestigious Teacher Advancement Program (TAP) National Founder's Award, and the National School Change Award. WBMS was also recognized as a Palmetto Silver Award Winner at the state level for closing the achievement gap. Finally, our music program received a national grant for music instruments from the Mr. Holland's Opus Foundation.

WBMS students completed another successful year of the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) academy. Students had the opportunity to conduct field studies through experiences at Hunting Island State Park, Riverbanks Zoological Gardens, Spring Island Nature Preserve, and the South Carolina State House Museum. Engineering projects included the design and construction of terrariums, roller coasters, and catapults.

Our seventh grade students were given two additional grants this year that provided them with extended opportunities for educational advancement. The first is the opportunity to work with a graduation coach through a state initiative called GEAR-UP. This program provides the students with a full-time graduation coach who will be with them from seventh grade through graduation from high school. The aim of the program is to increase graduation rates and college enrollment. Through this program, students were able to participate in college fairs, have access to tutors, and visit college campuses.

The second opportunity that the students received is a grant called, It's Your Game, Keep It Real. This grant provides students with access to a comprehensive health education curriculum and funds to secure resources that promote healthy lifestyles and encourage healthy decision making.

Because we cannot do what we do alone, our efforts to build home/school relationships involved the following: Parent to Parent training, Gentlemen's Club, ORCA's Arts Showcase, Star Watch, Beaufort Marine Institute (BMI), Faith Leader's Luncheon, Mental Health Counselors, Family Literacy Night, Family Game Night, Parent/Community Liaison, STEM Showcase, School Fusion website, and School Messenger.

The staff, students, and parents of the Whale Branch Community will continue to promote excellence in teaching and learning. We will continue to provide our students with unique learning opportunities and to prepare them with the skills necessary to compete in the 21st Century.
